

The Tutu Foundation UK builds on the legacy of Archbishop Emeritus Desmond Tutu who campaigned fearlessly against apartheid in South Africa during the 1970s, 1980s and early 1990s.

The Tutu Foundation UK encourages tolerance and understanding between people of different cultures, religions and ethnicity by supporting bridge building initiatives by local people.

The aim of the Ubuntu Game is to help players to understand how interconnected we are and to have fun listening to each others stories and experiences.

“My enemy is the person whose story I have not heard” Longfellow	What does it feel like to be left out in the cold, excluded from the ‘in’ group?	As fellow human beings, what things unite us, no matter what our differences are?	What would it take for you to be able to share something important but painful with another person?	What could we do to overcome our intolerance of people who are different from us?	Think of a time when you made someone feel good. What effect did it have on the person?	Think of a time when you made someone feel small. What effect did it have on the person?
	What does it take to move on after a conflict with someone?
Attitudes towards people who are different are often handed down from others as we grow up	The relative in my family who I'd like to get to know better is...	What do you do to give someone their dignity?	It takes a village to raise a child	The number of relations I have met in my extended family is...	It is important to affirm our differences and to celebrate what we have in common	The differences between people are often a source of conflict because...
						The person who has given me most support and encouragement is...
			We all have much more in common than we sometimes think	“If we don’t learn to live together as brothers and sisters, we will die together as fools” Martin Luther King	We are all interconnected and depend on one another. Who have you depended on to be here today?
		People are afraid of people who are different from them	Something I could do to build a bridge to my neighbours is...	In my neighbourhood you are most likely to meet people from a different culture at the...	When I moved into the neighbourhood my 1st impression of the locals was...
Instructions: In groups of 4, take it in turns to throw the dice. Count the number of squares to land on the correct square. Talk for 1 to 2 minutes on the statement or question in that square. Move to next person.						If I could be born into a different culture from my own, it would be...
Start here	How many of your neighbours have you spoken to this week?	The No. of different nationalities represented in my street/block is...	When I was young the person in my street we knew the best was	The thing that stops me getting to know my neighbours better is...	The most isolated people in my area are...

The Ubuntu Game!

www.tutufoundationuk.org
0207 654 3822
Ubuntu. We can be human only together
© Tutu Foundation UK

Instructions: In groups of 4, take it in turns to throw the dice. Count the number of squares to land on the correct square. Talk for 1 to 2 minutes on the statement or question in that square. Move to next person.

Ubuntu: An approach to life which recognises our interconnectedness. It is expressed in our relationships, attitudes and behaviour.